WELFARE OF CHILDREN - CHILDREN HOUSE OF HOPE (CHH)

This is an ameliorative service being given to the children through C.O.F. This service is named as the CHILDREN HOUSE OF HOPE (CHH). CHH is a free evening tuition centers established in the villages and slums of India. Its main purpose is to provide the physical, social, educational and moral needs of village and slum children through every possible way.

The parents of the village and slum children are illiterate; they were not able to help their children in their home works and studies. And they do not have awareness on the importance of basic education; because of this they stop sending their children to School and they send their children for coolie works, which they feel better for their children as it adds an additional income to the financially suffering family. The volunteers/tutors from these centers help the Children in their home works and studies. They also visit the parents and give them awareness on the importance of the education. Because of the regular follow-ups given, the school drop outs rate has come down and many parents send their children to school willingly than before. We give the children nutrition enriched food/snacks twice or thrice a week. We provide hygiene supplies to the children. We also provide notebooks, stationeries to the needy children. We helped few children for their medical expenses depend on their need. Yearly once medical camp also conducted .Our wish is to see every underprivileged child from the villages and slums to go school in spite of their families' financial poverty.

Educational Assistance

We have an aim and service to develop the underprivileged children and youth to get a good future through education .Many of our children in this project is from Children house of hope and Arise and shine of widows projects, have no proper awareness and guidance about higher studies ,as well they have no enough financial help from their parents to continue their studies or skill trainings to find decent job. So that COF select such children from our center and gave proper guidance to continue their education after completing their schooling 10th and 12th standard.

The elected students study fees will be provided fully or partially (30%,50% and 60%)from COF funds, we encourage students to study job oriented courses like Technical course ,Trade training, Engineering and other skill oriented training depend on the vision and talent of the children. Also we motivate their parents to contribute according to their ability as well we encourage students to do part-time jobs and earn to cover their additional needs. This gives more confidants for the students once they complete their studies they could easily make up their life and they stand on their own feet.Through this project already few students are completed their studies by our support and they were settled with jobs in India as well abroad.As a token of gratitude few beneficiaries turn as contributors and extend their support to new children. Every year we elected new students and continue our support to get proper higher studies this enable a bright future for our youth from different projects of COF.This year we have selected 14 children from Orrisa and 40 children from Tamilnadu.So altogether this year 57 children were supported for their higher education.

Farmer's Empowerment through Eco-farming Practices and Agro-based Management

COF gives special concern for the improvement of agriculture and the development of small and marginal farmers, tenant farmers and landless coolies. "One report from 2008 claimed India's population is growing faster than its ability to produce rice and wheat."¹ The production ability of India is declining every year. Various lands related and agro-operational issues affect small and marginal farmers, tenant farmers and landless coolies. This includes size of the land, wages, water availability, soil management, suitable seed availability, procurement of produce, preparation for next crop and elimination of chemical fertilizers and pesticides. The farmers are not aware of the new techniques and the right crop cultivation which is suitable for their land. Also the farmers are not economically strong enough to have all these facilities to have a better cultivation. Considering all these major issues we have introduced a program called Farmer's Empowerment through Eco-farming Practices and Agro-based Management for the massive development of the agriculture and cultivation; and also for the development of the life of the farmers. And we have seen great response/results through this program. At first we have organized the farmers into a small group in every selected village called Co-operatives. And the first six months COF staffs worked with them and training was given by the Agriculture experts on water management, pests and disease, soil and agriculture, fertility, new planting techniques, marketing strategy, awareness about co-operatives benefits. Then after that the poor farmers were given financial assistant of Rs. 20,000/- as capital investments to use for the cultivation such as buy healthy seeds, tools and fertilizers whereas the required cost for these needs has been estimated as Rs.25,000/-. The beneficiary's contribution was Rs. 5,000/- .Through that they have bought the necessary instruments, healthy seeds, fertilizers and natural manure. The outcome was great and the benefits are being experienced by the poor and marginal farmers.

This year the agricultural supports mainly done for the arise and shine woman as well it have been utilised under the head of social welfare support. Particularly w have distributed more trees and plants to cultivate as well we taught them to have own garden and gave awareness and teach the importance of horticulture. And it was really make an impact for each beneficiary and their villages.
